A HORROR AT SEA

THE STEAMERS THINGVALLA AND GEISER COLLIDE IN A FOG.

OVER ONE HUNDRED PERSONS LOSE THEIR LIVES.

The Geiser Sinks in Less Than Five Minutes After the Accident—The Thingvalla Finally Reaches Halifax, But is Badly Damaged—Accounts of Collision as Given by Eye-Witnesses.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The steamships Geiser and Thingvalla collided at sea, off Sable Island, August 14, and 103 persons were killed and drowned.

There was a heavy sea and a dense fog when the collision took place.

It happened at 4 a. m. It is said an object could not be distinguished fifty feet away by reason of the fog. Stories differ as to where the liability lies, if not wholly due to the fog and heavy sea.

The Thingvalla struck the Geiser on the starboard side amidships, tearing a great hole in her hull. The Geiser sunk in five minutes.

The Geiser had eighty-six passengers aboard. Of these seventy-two were killed or drowned. Fourteen were rescued. The Geiser's crew numbered fifty. Only seventeen were saved. Thirty-three were drowned.

The crew of the Thingvalla did all they could to save the Geiser's crew and passengers, while still in doubt as to whether the Thingvalla was not dangerously disabled, but owing to the heavy sea only thirty-three were saved.

Capt. Moller, of the Geiser, was among the saved. Mrs. Hilda Lind, of Cincinnati, was the only woman saved from the Geiser. Her two children were drowned.

The Thingvalla was badly damaged, but transferred her 455 passengers to the steamship Wieland, which appeared soon after the accident, and then put into Halifax. The Wieland brought news of the disaster.

The Geiser left New York on August 11, bound for Stettin. The Thingvalla left Copenhagen on August 11, bound for this port. Capt. A. Albers, of the Wieland, tells the following story:

"At 10 o'clock on the morning of August 14 we passed some wreckage floating in the sea and suspected that an accident had happened somewhere near us. A little later we sailed through a sea of oil and sighted a broken boat of the Geiser. About 11:50 we sighted a steamer to the northward, about eight miles off, and seeing she had a flag of distress up, we ran down to her. It proved to be the Thingvalla, and Capt. Lamb, of that vessel, came to us in a small boat and begged us to take off his passengers and those he had saved from the Geiser.

"He said his own vessel was so badly injured he expected her to sink at any moment. His forward compartment had been completely carried away from half way from the deck to below the water line. We sent out three of our boats, and the Thingvalla lowered two of hers, and in five hours we had transferred the saved passengers and crew of the Geiser, and also the 455 passengers of the Thingvalla. The sea was very rough at the time, and the work of transferring the passengers was very difficult."

The immense hole in the Thingvalla's bow was then patched up as well as possible, and she started for Halifax.

The chief officer of each vessel was on deck at the time of the collision. The third officer, Peterson, told much the same story of the occurrence. "Through the night, rain had fallen at intervals. The first we knew of the Geiser's approach was when she appeared on the starboard, right upon us. Both vessels tried to sheer off, being head-on. The Geiser was struck opposite the engine rooms amidships. The Geiser being heavily loaded, was very low in the water, so that the Thingvalla carried away her own compartment. The upper part of her bow ran over the decks of the Geiser. The Geiser's deck houses were carried away, and the state-rooms were smashed in and the occupants killed."

He heard a bell ring in the Geiser's engine room, but could not tell what the order was. Officer Peterson was on deck at the time. He then heard the bell ring again, this time to back, and the steamer had just commenced to reverse when the Thingvalla struck.

The Geiser's whistle was blowing at the time. Second Officer Forngensen jumped for the Thingvalla when they struck, and was hauled on the Thingvalla's deck by some of the latter's crew. One of the Geiser's passengers was picked up with a broken leg.

It appears from the statements of the officers that the Thingvalla made the fatal mistake.

Capt. Albers, of the Wieland, talked the matter over with Capt. Moller, and the latter drew a diagram to illustrate the collision.

The Geiser was bound east and the Thingvalla west, but the line of the keel of the Geiser was a little to the north of the line of the keel of the Thingvalla.

When, therefore, Chief Officer Brown, of the Geiser ordered his helm to starboard, he did the right thing, for that act tended to point the Geiser still further away from the Thingvalla. But when the helm of the Thingvalla was put to port it threw the bow of the Thingvalla around to the north also, and of course she was then headed for the Geiser and no power could prevent a collision. She struck the Geiser almost square on and just about the bulkhead at the forward end of the engine room. The fact that she struck the Geiser almost at right angles shows that when the helms of the boats were first altered, the two must have been quite a distance apart. These long ships are slow to turn. Had the Thingvalla put her helm to starboard both would have escaped.

Annas Wilson, a civil engineer of Minneapolis, one of the passengers on the Geiser, said: "About 4 o'clock Tuesday morning I was awakened by a slight shock, and, thinking we had struck a wreck, I went on deck just as some one shouted, 'She is sinking!' I found we had been struck on the starboard side, about amidships. There were a that time four or five men working at the boats. I had a cork jacket, and felt comparatively safe, so I called to the people down stairs, and then watched the boat sink from the bow. As she went down I stuck to her, and was carried down several hundred feet, I believe. Soon I felt myself shooting up through the water, impelled by my cork jacket. I was on top of the water for perhaps half an hour. I climbed on the keel of a small boat floating upside down and was finally picked up."

Dr. August Wern, of Copenhagen, was on the Thingvalla. He says:

"I could hear our steam whistle blowing, but I heard no other signals. It was exactly 4:30 o'clock when I was hurled to the floor of my stateroom. There was a terrific crash, and I knew instinctively that a collision had occurred. I ran to the deck and found that we had run into the steamship Geiser. As I reached the deck the Thingvalla drew out of the rent she had made in the Geiser's side. Capt. Lamb, of the Thingvalla, was in his berth when the accident occurred. He was one of the first to reach the deck.

"First Officer Peterson and Third Officer Forngensen were on the Thingvalla's bridge at the time. I afterward learned that Capt. Moller, of the Geiser, had gone to bed and left First Officer Brown in command of the vessel. Brown was lost. Life boats were promptly launched from the Thingvalla, and the work of rescuing the unfortunate began. Some of the Geiser's passengers and crew had reached their boats, but most of them was picked up from improvised rafts, chicken coops, camp stools, and anything else that would float."

The Times says the apparent reluctance of Third Officer Peterson to state the name of the officer he was about to relieve when the crash came, arouses a suspicion that all was not right on the bridge at that time. There was a rumor last night that First Officer Brown, who was among the lost, was below when Mr. Peterson came on deck instead of being in his proper place on the bridge.

S. E. Hansen, of Worcester, Mass.; A. E. Johnson & Company, of St. Paul, Minn.; A. Mortensen & Company, of Chicago, and A. E. Winnestrom, of Philadelphia, agents of the line, have been notified to send on their lists of tickets sold on the Geiser.

Mrs. Ida Mangrove, who with her child, bought her tickets in Worcester. Fourteen and a half tickets were sold in St. Paul, of which three were saved. From Chicago forty-one and a half tickets were shipped, of which six were saved, and from Philadelphia one shipped and one saved. The balance of the tickets, twenty-three, were sold at the office, No. 13 State street, in this city, of which only three were saved.

The Thingvalla Reaches Port.

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 18.—The Thingvalla has reached this port in a badly damaged condition.

A CANADIAN STORM

Sweeps Over Eastern Ontario—A Number of Lives Lost.

MONTREAL, Aug. 18.—A thunder storm that passed over eastern Ontario and the whole of Quebec, Thursday night, destroyed hundreds of houses and barns. Horses and cattle by the hundred have been killed and many people are lost.

At a small village called St. Louis de Gonzague, Capt. Louis Sauve, his wife and son were killed instantly. A laborer, name unknown, on the Sauve farm, was also killed by a bolt that struck the barn half an hour after the house was struck.

At St. Ignace George S. Lorimer was killed by a tree, which had been struck by lightning, falling upon him.

In St. Hyacinthe the son of the proprietor of a small hotel was killed while closing the window of his room.

A report comes from Chaudiere that two lumbermen were swept over the falls while they were crossing the river. Lightning struck their canoe and they were swept to death in the raging river.

The hotel at Smith's Falls was set on fire, and it is reported that the wife of the proprietor died from fright.

From all over Quebec come reports of houses being set on fire and whole families left destitute, and at a small place called La Original, the parish church was struck by lightning.

The place was full of people at the time, 10 p. m., praying for protection from the storm. A panic ensued, and many were seriously injured by being trampled upon.

LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEERS

Celebrate the Quarter Centennial of the Brotherhood.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 18.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers to-day began celebrating the quarter centennial of its organization in this city, the birthplace of the order. Special trains and excursions were coming in all night, and it is estimated that upwards of two thousand members are now in the city, while 4,000 in all are expected. Delegations from nearly all the states in the union have come.

Most of the high officers are present, including Chief Engineer P. M. Artur, First Grand Assistant Engineer Harry Hayes, of Cleveland, and W. R. Robinson, of Vincennes, Ind., the first chief of the order and originator of the Brotherhood idea. Several charter members were also on hand. Mr. Artur says the object of the meeting is purely social, the members proposing to have a good time and throw business cares aside.

The first meeting was an appropriate one held in the morning at White's theater. In the afternoon at 2 o'clock the open sessions began, presided over by Chief Engineer Artur. Acting Mayor Considine made the welcoming address. Governor Luce, Rev. Charles O'Reilly, D.D., treasurer of the Irish National league; Gen. R. A. Alger, Hon. William C. Maybury and others made addresses.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 18.—The second day's meeting of the Society for the Advancement of Science was one of great interest. Professor J. C. H. Woodbury, of Washington, was elected vice president of section two. There are eight sections in all, and about fifty papers were read.

THE POLICE OF BOSTON

VAINLY ATTEMPTING TO UNRAVEL A MYSTERY.

A Young Woman Found Dying in a Park A Physician Pronounces It a Case of Alcoholism, But Later It is Learned That Poison Was the Cause of Her Death.

BOSTON, Aug. 18.—The death of an unknown woman at the police station Sunday morning is attracting much attention and keeping a lot of police officers busy hunting for a solution of the mystery, in which her death and identity are involved.

Saturday night an officer found a woman in Franklin park, at the Highlands, apparently under the influence of liquor. She was almost speechless and stupefied by narcotics or alcohol. She did manage to say that her name was Clark and to mumble something about New York and Philadelphia, but the officer could not or did not realize the gravity of the woman's condition and took no trouble to gain definite information from her incoherent replies to his questions.

He called assistance and carried her to the police station, she having lapsed into unconsciousness on the way. A physician was called, and after a hasty examination, pronounced it a case of rum. The matron, however, could discover no traces of liquor, and the officers at the station noticed the absence of alcoholic odors. As the woman was evidently dying, the physician was again called, and again he said it was simply alcoholism. She did not regain consciousness, and died Sunday morning. A name on some article of clothing was Annie Clark.

It was at first thought to be one of those cases only too frequent in large cities and attracted little notice. As day after day passed, however, without identification, and no policeman could be found who could recognize her as a woman of the street, the mystery aroused interest. More careful examination revealed unmistakable signs of narcotic poisoning, but not until yesterday was anything discovered that told whether it was a case of suicide or murder. In the meantime Professor Wood, of Harvard college, is subjecting the girl's stomach to analysis, but the result will not be known for several days.

Yesterday the man in charge of the Franklin park rectory found an empty bottle marked "morphine" on the lawn near where the girl was found on Saturday night. It bore the apothecary's stamp of A. G. Wilber, a Washington street druggist. This clue was easily traced, as the druggist's books showed that on August 11 a woman giving her name as A. Clark, 20 Franklin street, bought an eight-ounce bottle of morphine. No further description of the woman could be given except that she was about thirty years old. This was presumptive evidence that it was a case of suicide. The clerk who sold the poison was taken to the morgue but was unable to identify the dead woman as the purchaser.

Nearly every Boston district contains a Franklin street, and at this time the police have been able to learn that no such woman worked or lived at the Franklin street in the city proper, or in the Charlestown, Brighton and Dorchester districts, which cover the streets of that name given in the directory. There deepens the mystery. On the other hand, partial identifications have not been wanting as usual in cases of this kind.

The most definite came when the body reviewed by a Mrs. Proctor, keeper of a boarding house on Hancock street, who expressed her belief that the remains were those of her kitchen girl, Maggie Haley, who has been missing since Saturday, and who had been in her employ four weeks.

This woman was about thirty years old, an age that fairly enough corresponded with that of the dead woman. But her identification boiled down went to show that the dead woman's nose, forehead and hands resembled those of her missing servant, and that was all. It is more than probable that the time of the disappearance of the one and the death of the other were the only points of resemblance.

An inspector is hard at work on the case, however, and thinks identity is only a question of another day at most. If her identity is not established here inquiries will be made about the Franklin streets of New York and Philadelphia.

Fighting Over a County Seat.

WICHITA, Kan., Aug. 18.—One of the officers of the militia company, which has returned from Stevens county, relates that there is every prospect of another outbreak between Wooddale and Hugoton, as the people of the former place avow they will be avenged for the death of their four citizens. The situation in Grant county, he said, is also so strained that the citizens asked Gen. Myers to leave one company at each of the town, Cincinnati and Ulysses, as between these places the bitterest rivalry exists over the county seat question. Both towns are paying numbers of lawless characters from the neutral strip $1 a day and board to remain within their border, so that they can vote on the county seat question in about thirty days.

Nebraska Crops.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—A special from Sioux City, Iowa, to the Inter-Ocean says: Reports from thirty-nine towns in Northeastern Nebraska show that small grain is a bad failure. Wheat and oats have been almost ruined by rust, hail and wind storms, and only a small portion of the fields will be cut; and the rains of the past ten days have caused grain to sprout badly. Corn has a fair prospect, although considerably blown down by wind, and very late.

Protective Tariff League.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—At the monthly meeting of the executive committee of the American protective tariff league the reports showed a great increase in the work of circulating high tariff literature. Stephen W. Roach was elected manager in place of Garrett Roach, deceased. The resignation of General Secretary Joseph D. Weeks was accepted, and ex-Governor Henry M. Hoyt, of Pennsylvania, was elected general secretary.

Lightning Kills a Whole Family.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 18.—Chief Prescott, of the Kickapoo, his squaw and five children, were killed by lightning in his cabin on the reservation, near Netawaka, Kan.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Topics of the Times Given in a Terse and Spicy Manner.

The Lancaster, O., camp-meeting is drawing immense crowds.

Mrs. Robert Hasall committed suicide at Cleveland, O., by hanging.

Hon. Isaac LaFollette, prominent Indiana politician, died at Oakland.

William Howard, shot by his brother-in-law at Hopkinsville, Ky., is dead.

The new bridge in process of construction at Cedarville, O., fell and killed Dan Haley, a workman.

Near Wellington, O., Fred Battle fell off a stack of oats, running a pitchfork into his bowels. He will die.

On the site of the property destroyed in the great Chattanooga fire, a block valued at $150,000 will be erected.

Thomas Hendricks, of Portsmouth, O., is a heavy villain. He is in jail for stealing a derrick from a stone quarry.

A one-cent-per-mile-rate will be charged by the railroad companies during the Grand Army entertainment at Columbus.

An escaped convict named Smith Sloan shot Wesley Waulthaeve and fourteen-year-old son at Pittsburg, Tenn. Both will die.

Mat Badcliff, Buchtel, O., saloonkeeper, is invited by the grand jury to appear and explain why he assisted in breaking the Owen law.

William McLin sues John Morgan for $5,000 because he, McLin, came out second best in a fracas with Morgan at Washington, Indiana.

Miss Ella Ganson, of Logansport, Ind., took a suicidal dose of carbolic acid, and has gone to tell his life's failures to the tenderest Judge of all.

Annual reunion of soldiers and sailors of northern Indiana and southern Michigan at Elkhart, Ind., was addressed by Gen. W. H. Gibson, of Tiffin, O.

An interesting session of the Northern Ohio German Lutheran Evangelical church is being held at Bucyrus, O. Many ministers are present from all over the state.

At Mount Carmel, Ill., Herbert Zimmerman, aged eleven, was shot and killed by an eight-year-old companion. The weapon was a "thought-it-wasn't-loaded" one.

Postmaster Hurley, of New Albany, Ind., is sued by the Federal authorities for $228. The squabble arises from a misunderstanding as to who should pay the rent.

At Hall's station, Alabama, Gid Blackburn, aged six, and Lewis Davis, aged three, burned with an "empty" gun. The baby, Lewis, lost one side of his head and died instantly.

James Scanlan, of St. Paul, Minn., was shot and killed by his mistress, Pearl Wilson, while asleep in a room at Minneapolis. The girl then shot herself through the head, and will die.

Moorehead, Ky., people have caught Dave and Albert Lewis, who murdered a young lady and their cousin, Henry Lewis. On the theory that "like cures like" they are threatening to mend the fracture in their laws by making another lynching bee.

Object to Miscegenation.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 18.—Great excitement has prevailed in and around Abbeville, in Vermillion parish, during the last few days, over the attempt of the regulators to break up miscegenation there. The movement, which has been general in the state for some time, recently spread to Vermillion, where the regulators or Caucasians, as they are called, warned all white men living with negro women and vice versa to leave the parish. On Tuesday the regulators whipped one white man, but when they came to the residence of a negro named Shepard, who was living with a white woman, the woman rushed out with a shotgun and opened fire on the crowd, fatally wounding one of them. This created great excitement, and a company of rangers in the adjoining parish of Iberia was summoned to arms. A disturbance was feared.

Frightful Revenge.

GADSDEN, Ala., Aug. 18.—B. H. Reagan, a well-to-do and respectable farmer, living near Lay's Springs, at the foot of Lookout mountain, had a difficulty with two colored hands working on his place, and discharged them. They swore vengeance at the time but little did Reagan imagine the fiendish nature of their retaliation. Watching an opportunity when they knew the farmer was away from home, they went to the house, seized his fifteen-year-old son Alonzo, bound him hand and foot, and taking him into the woods, emasculated him with a razor. After they had perpetrated their heinous crime they turned the poor boy loose alone in the woods to make his way home as best he could, and made good their escape. Armed, determined men are scouring the country in every direction in search of the brutes. If caught it is easy to imagine their fate.

Francis Willard's Opinion.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Miss Francis Willard addressed Local Assembly No. 7,233, Knights of Labor, Thursday evening at the request of the order. She made one of her characteristic and eloquent speeches, pleading especially for temperance and the equal rights of woman. The present tariff she declared to be a tax on the poor man for the benefit of the rich, and the idea of protection a delusion and a snare. Her remarks were received enthusiastically, and at their conclusion Miss Willard was given a vote of thanks.

An Oil Well on a Rampage.

MONTPELIER, Ind., Aug. 18.—Salamonie No. 3, a powerful gas and oil well gusher, has broken loose two miles east of this city, and the farmers within a half mile radius of the well are panic stricken. No fires have been lighted at their homes since the well broke loose, and it is unsafe to strike a match within half a mile of the well. The fields and outstanding crops are saturated with oil over the entire section.

Through a Bridge.

SPENCERVILLE, Aug. 18.—Cal Moorman was crossing Grassy creek with a traction engine, when the bridge gave way, precipitating engine and all to the creek bed below. A distance of ten feet. Mr. Moorman was horribly mangled, his legs being crushed and scalded. After two hours' hard work, they succeeded in extracting him from the awful position. He will die.

How the Republicans Have Curtailed Trade.

The annual production of the United States is equal to $190 for every man, woman and child under the flag, while the annual productions of all Europe amount to less than $40 per capita, and that of the whole world outside of the United States amount to less than $30 per capita, yet in the very face of these facts the Republicans insist that the productive powers of this Government shall be limited to the consuming capacity of 60,000,000 people, when with proper encouragement it can produce enough for 400,000,000. But the cry is that we can not get other nations to buy of us. Why not? It is said that we only sell $7,000,000 of our manufactures annually to Mexico as an evidence that foreign countries will not buy from us; yet Mexico does buy annually from England $750,000,000, being more than one hundred times as much as it buys from the United States.

The same is true of South America and all other countries that buy annually from England nearly $2,000,000,000. Why should we confine our producers to a home market of only 60,000,000 people while England furnishes to the market of the world annually nearly $2,000,000,000 of her productions? The truth is England sells because she holds out inducements, which the United States withholds. Hence the languishing condition of our industries. While the annual production of the United States is one-fifth greater than the annual production of England, yet England's export trade is annually five times greater than the export trade of the United States. Now if we had export trade equal to that of England, there would not be an idle laborer in the country, and new life would be imparted to all the industries of the land.

The Democrats by wise legislation are trying to put a stop to this curtailment of trade and to bring about an era of progress and prosperity.

What the Republicans Propose to Do For the Cigar Trade.

The Cigar Makers' International Union of America adopted at the seventeenth session held at Binghamton, N. Y., the following resolutions:

"WHEREAS, The internal revenue system, so far as it applies to the manufacture of cigars, has had the effect of developing it from a mere sporadic calling into a fully established industry by which nearly 75,000 of our people earn their livelihood;

WHEREAS, The abolition of the internal revenue on cigars would not benefit either producer or consumer by reason of its fractional bearing on each cigar; therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the representatives of the cigar makers of the country in convention assembled, protest respectfully, but emphatically against any interference with the revenue on cigars."

The Republicans, it will be remembered, have declared themselves in favor of abolishing this tax. But the foregoing resolution speaks the desire of a skilled labor union which embraces in membership some thirty-five thousand men. The union also holds in its treasury, divided among the subordinate unions, over $300,000 per annum for sick relief, employment and beneficent purposes. There are no tramps in this trade. The unions provide liberally and ungrudgingly for their sick and for those of their number who are out of employment. In the great battle that was fought in the State of New York this international union spent nearly $10,000 to regulate their own trade.

Without help from the outside these men, out of their own earnings and by wise action, have brought their trade to the point where it is one of the best regulated and most firmly established in America. And in the face of all this the Republicans want to put this trade in a position where it will have to compete with tenement house labor.

The Democrats are opposed to the destruction of this branch of industry and are therefore endeavoring to prevent the removal of the tax from cigars.

Robinson's Floating Palaces.

Eugene Robinson's floating palaces arrived at 1 p. m. yesterday from Manchester in tow of the steamer Matt F. Allen, and gave a performance last night to a large audience. The museum is said to be very good and well worth seeing. The theatrical part of the entertainment consisted of specialties, and is given on a separate boat that is fitted up in elegant manner.

Performance this afternoon and tonight.

A Correction.

Editor of Bulletin: This morning's Democrat in noticing the death of Dr. Robert N. Taylor, says: "He was raised by Dr. A. G. Browning, of this city, and they were always very near friends." I hasten to correct the statement, inadvertently made I'm sure, that I raised Dr. Taylor. Indeed I would regard it an honor—one such enough for a lifetime. But in truth, Dr. Taylor, not lacking home and friends, came as near raising himself as ever did living man; and that by sheer force of native brain. That we were near friends, I am not, for obvious reasons, slow to acknowledge. Respectfully,

A. G. BROWNING.

Among the delightful social events of the past week none was more thoroughly engaged than the musicale given at the palatial residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cox, of West Second street, a few evenings since. Their guests Misses Sne and Lottie Gibson, of St. Joseph, Mo., took part in the rendition of the programme, which was as follows:

"Steeple Chase," piano duet—Miss Gibson and Miss Berry.

"German Wedding," piano solo—Miss Gibson.

"Return," vocal solo—Miss Wheeler.

"Souvenir"—Miss Berry and Mr. Rosenau.

"Ben Bolt," vocal solo—Mrs. Lucy Keith.

"Carnival of Venice," piano and violin—Miss Berry and Mr. Rosenau.

"Bobolink"—Mrs. Ashby Burke.

"La Galatana," piano solo—Miss Berry.

"Mignon," violin and piano—Mr. Rosenau and Miss Berry.

"Old Folks at Home,"—quartette.

At the conclusion of the programme delightful refreshments were served.

H. MARGOLEN, of Paris, heretofore an ardent Republican, has experienced a change of heart, and is now enthusiastic for Cleveland and Thurman.

TEACHERS ASSOCIATION.

Organized—The Officers and Constitution—Closing Work of the Institute.

The institute was opened yesterday morning with singing by the members, Professor Kappes presiding at the organ. This was followed with scriptural reading by Superintendent Galbraith and prayer by Mr. Josiah Wilson.

Before the regular order was taken up Mr. W. D. Hixson gave some useful information in regard to our national affairs.

The Superintendent announced that the subject "Proper and Improper Incentives to Study," was before the institute. Mr. McGohan said that he had not made any particular preparation on this subject, but in a few spirited remarks gave some food for reflection on the part of the teachers. Messrs. Chandler and Williams followed in some well-chosen remarks. The Superintendent closed the discussion with his usual good suggestions.

Mr. Savage's oration on the subject of "Teachers' Revivals" was among the talks appreciated by the institute. He thinks the teacher who does not mix with his fellow teachers is the one who remains in the old ruts.

The institute then adjourned for recess, after which the organization of "The Mason County Teachers' Association" was perfected by the election of the following officers:

President—L. W. Galbraith.
Vice President—W. R. Chandler.
Secretary—C. J. Hall.
Treasurer—Josiah Wilson.
Critic—Miss Metcalfe.
Librarian—Wm. D. Hixson.

The association adopted the following constitution:

For the purpose of greater intellectual improvement, more perfect and systematic professional work on the part of its members, the promotion of the cause of education in Mason County and the State of Kentucky, and for mutual help to each other, we hereby organize "The Mason County Teachers' Association," and pledge ourselves to use every lawful and proper means in our power to the ends herein set out.

All white teachers actively engaged in their profession, and those who hold certificates as teachers in Mason County, and the County Superintendent of Schools, and Board of Examiners for Mason County, and all trustees of the common schools of said county shall be eligible to membership as active members, and any person interested in the cause of education may become an honorary member.

The officers of the association shall consist of a President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, Critic and Librarian, who shall hold their offices for a term of one year, whose duties shall be those usually attached to said officers.

The standing committees of the association shall consist of the Committee on Books and Publications, Committee on Printing and Executive Committee, whose duties shall be as follows: The Committee on Books and Publications shall correspond with publishers and report on the merits of books, magazines, etc.; Committee on Printing shall see to the publication of the proceedings of the association, so far as of general interest regarding the public schools of Mason County, and secure articles for publication from the teachers; the Executive Committee shall arrange the programme and select the time and place for the meeting of the association, and audit all accounts. The Superintendent of Schools shall be, ex-officio, a member of the Executive Committee.

The membership fee to be fixed by the association shall not exceed $1 per year. The active members only shall vote on questions coming before the convention.

Those present at any regular meeting or called meeting, notice of which has been sent to each active member of the association three days previous, shall constitute a quorum of the association.

This constitution can be amended by a two-third vote of the members of the association present, notice of such amendment having been given at the previous meeting. A by-law may be introduced and passed at any regular meeting, or regular called meeting, by a two-third vote.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The institute began work with a discussion upon "Written Work" by Superintendent Galbraith, Mr. Wilson and others. Wise suggestions were offered and all were convinced of the importance of the subject.

"Reading, Outside the Schoolroom" was ably presented by Professor Hall. He advised the teachers to read at least one professional work during a term. Read the best works of fiction and become acquainted with the best American authors.

After a short recess Superintendent Galbraith gave some valuable suggestions upon the study of "Geography" and the best manner of teaching that branch.

Professor Kappes next took the floor and the institute was treated to a very interesting lecture upon "The Use and Abuse of Text-books."

The attention of the institute was called to "School Law" by Superintendent Galbraith.

"Auntie Doleful" was recited by Mrs. Ross in her usual pleasant style.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, We, as the teachers of Mason County, Ky., extend Professor J. H. Kappes our sincere thanks for his hearty co-operation and many useful thoughts given us during the institute. Also, we extend our thanks to Superintendent Galbraith for faithful discharge of every duty. Also, to Mrs. Ross and Miss Gano.

Resolved, That the thanks of this institute are due and are hereby given to the Board of Education for the use of the High School building, and also to Miss Ella E. Metcalfe, Professor Hall and B. F. Williams, our faithful secretaries, for their services.

The institute then adjourned sine die.

AN important meeting of the male members of the Baptist Church will be held at the court house at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. It is earnestly requested that every male member of the church be present at that hour.

R. B. GARRETT, pastor.

MRS. T. B. FULTON, of Aberdeen, desires to return thanks to all friends who were so kind to her and her family during her recent affliction from the loss of her husband; especially to Misses Lelia Wheeler, Maggie Reidle, Mrs. C. B. Sutton, Mr. Frank Ellis for kindnesses at the funeral services.

MR. JOHN BIERLEY, an old and highly respected citizen of Brown County, Ohio, died yesterday morning at nine o'clock, aged ninety-four years. Funeral takes place to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the family residence two miles above Aberdeen. The deceased was an uncle of the late C. W. Bierley, and was a relative of Mrs. Henry Dersch. His wife and ten children survive him.

ALSACE-LORRAINE.

THERE WILL BE WAR IF FRANCE ATTEMPTS TO RECOVER IT.

No Prospects of a Russo-German Commercial Treaty—Russia Joins the Porte in the Protest Against Italy—The White Pasha Again—Other Foreign News.

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—At the unveiling of a monument to the memory of the late Prince Frederick Charles, at Frankfurt, Emperor William, at a breakfast given in his honor, said in reply to the burgomaster's speech: "I well know how to appreciate the ties of fervent and faithful devotion that for centuries have bound the Prussian people to the Hohenzollerns."

"Emperor William I. well knew whom he selected when he conferred the command of the Third army corps upon Prince Frederick Charles. The prince's iron frame, powerful will and strategic genius rendered him eminently qualified to command. This is a serious time, Emperor William I., Prince Frederick Charles and other great military commanders and helpers in the creation of the empire are no more, though they will continue to live in the memory of the German people forever. Just as the people of Brandenburg, with their iron strength and unwearied activity, wrest a livelihood from the servile soil, so the Third army corps wrested victory from the enemy."

"The deeds which the Third army corps achieved they owed to the prince. There can be no question as to the surrender of what has thus been gained. Our eighteen army corps, our 46,000,000 of people, ought rather to be left on the battlefield than to permit one stone of what has been gained to be taken. With this sentiment I drink to the welfare of the Brandenburg people."

The young emperor has evinced discretion in his utterances, and would hardly have unnecessarily turned his remarks into that channel, except for a purpose. He desired all Germany to hear what he said, with an apparent view of familiarizing the German people with an expectation of war with France. Indeed, Bismarck has manipulated the German press to accomplish the same purpose for some time. Yet meanwhile the French government and even the volatile French press have disclaimed any intention to determine to attempt the recovery of Alsace-Lorraine. This implies that under certain conditions Germany will become the aggressor.

The belief obtains, as is often reiterated by military men, that in the present state of development of the science and means of war, that nation will have an immense advantage which is prepared to strike first. That there has been nothing practical effected by the imperial visit to Russia is the judgment of the St. Petersburg press, which is divided in its opinion upon whether the French republic is stable enough to warrant an alliance with Russia. The latter has no interest whatever in common with any member of the central alliance, but their commercial and other interests are diametrically opposed.

The North German Gazette, Bismarck's organ, declared that the "freedom of action which the Moscow Gazette urges Russia to maintain against German commercial encroachments is of the highest importance to Germany's economic policy, and hence Germany has no intention of impairing this liberty by a commercial agreement with Russia."

Moreover the Italian acquisition in Abyssinia, which Germany approves, does not suit Russia, as the following dispatch from St. Petersburg indicates:

"Russia joins the protest of the ports against the Italian claims to Massowah, in the Red sea."

All the drift of Europe, as advanced by National acts and declarations, is rapidly toward war.

Comments on the Queen's Actions. LONDON, Aug. 18.—Many are the comments that have followed the queen's act of contributing £50 to the Irish constabulary fund.

The Liberal journals deprecate the gift and consider that it will have a bad effect upon the Irish in general, as it accentuates in a disagreeable manner where the queen's sympathies are placed. It also contrasts in an unpleasant manner her feelings toward a people who could be loyal to her if they could, and the very different feelings she entertains for the men who hound the Irish peasants from their homes and livings.

The Irish Nationalist journals take up the subject and comment upon it with extreme bitterness. One says that the fact in itself could be as insignificant as the sum, were it not for the unmistakable indication that the gift affords for the amount of affection with which the queen regards her Irish subjects.

Other papers declare that the Irish only need the love and sympathy, which the queen has willingly bestowed upon other parts of her kingdom, to make them the most loyal of her subjects. The gift has caused a great deal of feeling, and a more inopportune time, when daily evictions are being carried on and Ireland's distress is increasing, could not have been chosen for such an act.

Surely It Is Stanley. LONDON, Aug. 18.—A dispatch from Suakin to the Times says: The reports concerning the presence of a white man in the Bahrel-Gazel district are confirmed. He is known as Abu Digna, and has a force of enormous strength, including a large number of half-naked men, probably from the Niam Niam country. This is a strong point in favor of the idea that the white man is Stanley. The khalf of Khartoum has sent a force of 5,200 men against him. The Negus of Abyssinia has sworn to capture Khartoum, and the khalf is greatly alarmed.

Will Inspect the Polish Frontier. ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 18.—The czar will probably start on his journey to Poland on Tuesday next. Forty thousand soldiers are in readiness to occupy the railway lines over which he will travel. The object of the czar's visit is not announced, but may be assumed to be for the purpose of a personal inspection of the military preparations on the frontier.

A $2,000,000 Fire. LONDON, Aug. 18.—Advices from Cayenne, French Guiana, state the business portion of that city has been destroyed by fire. The loss is $2,000,000.

Foreign Notes. The pope continues unwell. The utmost secrecy prevails regarding his condition. The king and queen of Portugal have arrived at Ischl, where they will be guests of Emperor Francis Joseph.

Gen. Valle, Italian minister of war, denies that the occupation of the Korn was effected on behalf of the government.

The sugar bounties conference has adjourned until August 27. There is not a bright prospect of agreement on the subject of abolishing the bounties.

Two thousand leading Imperialists met in Paris, Wednesday. M. Legoux presided. A patriotic address was voted to Prince Victor. At a banquet which followed, the greatest enthusiasm was manifested.

Mr. Parnell denies the reports circulated in Dublin that it is his intention to vacate his seat in parliament until the commission on the Scotch court completes its inquiry.

The report that Lupton Bey died at Khartoum of consumption recently is confirmed by an eyewitness of his funeral, which was conducted in public with Mohammedan ceremonies.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC

Scheming for an Entrance of Its Own Into Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—It has been reported about town in a quiet way for some time past that the Northern Pacific Railroad company was making arrangements to secure an entrance of its own into Chicago, and that large purchases of land were in prospect. It is now tolerably certain that a scheme by which the great corporation will have as good an entrance to Chicago and as good terminal facilities as any other road has been nearly worked out.

The paper goes on to say that the chief engineer of the company recently went over a tract of land lying west of the city, containing 4,000 acres, which it is assumed would not have been done had not the land been already secured. It is stated that bids have also been made for other tracts in that vicinity.

The understanding is that this is to be used for switching yards, and it is intimated that the scheme is even larger; that there is a prospect that the belt road about the city may become the joint property of all the roads centering here, and that the tract mentioned may be wanted for a great depot of freight exchange. The supposition is that the Northern Pacific will come in over the tracks of the Wisconsin Central and that the completion of the arrangement only awaited the return of Henry Villard from Europe. As he is now in this country it is assumed that the matter will soon develop.

Railroad Engineers and Firemen.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Delegates to the secret meeting of engineers and firemen held at St. Louis last week who have returned here, are very reticent regarding the outcome of the gathering. It has been learned, however, that harmony and united action were assured; that the monthly stipend now being paid to the strikers was increased one third; that the demand of the radicals that a general boycott be declared against all Burlington cars was defeated and that a general plan for the political organization of railroad employees, to be put in operation at once in the western states, was approved. Meanwhile it is understood that General Manager Stone, who is now in New York, will submit to the board of directors the proposition for a settlement of the difficulty which was recently made by Messrs. Arthur, Sargeant and Hoge.

Stabbed His Former Employer.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Foreman Bock, of the Forest Glen Floral company, of Jefferson, was stabbed nearly to death by a discharged workman named Albert Mincho, about midnight, Thursday night. Mincho, who is a German, was dismissed Thursday for unsatisfactory work. He went away muttering threats. At night he laid in waiting for Bock and as the latter was about to enter the gate of his boarding place, sprang upon him with a knife and slashed him terribly. Bock's right eye is cut out, some of the arteries of his neck severed, besides other ghastly cuts about his face and breast. The doctors say he cannot recover. Mincho fled and has so far escaped arrest.

United Typothetæ of America.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Arrangements have been completed by the New York Typothetæ for the entertainment of the United Typothetæ of America, which will begin its sessions in this city September 18, at Masonic Temple. A large attendance of delegates is expected as well as the presence of several eminent foreign printers. The officers of the United Typothetæ are Theo. L. Cevinna, of New York, president; Sam. Slawson, of St. Louis, corresponding secretary; James Davidson, of Louisville, recording secretary; A. O. Russell, of Cincinnati, treasurer, and Howard Lockwood, of New York, chairman of the executive committee.

A Wonderful Young Lady.

CLINTON, Iowa, Aug. 18.—Miss Lena Loebe, the electric girl, is here attending the Spiritualists' camp-meeting, and is astonishing people with her wonderful powers. Though weighing but ninety-four pounds and only sixteen years old, she pushed five strong men all about a room at once in daylight, and held a man weighing 300 pounds suspended from the floor in a chair, though ten other men pulling down on the chair so strongly that it was pulled in pieces. Her other feats are as wonderful.

Cincinnati Gets It.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The Greenbackers hold a National convention in Cincinnati on September 12. Candidates for president and vice president will be nominated. George O. Jones, chairman of the National committee at Washington, in his call for the convention, said: "The name of the National Greenback party is familiar to the politics of this country, and a presidential election without candidates to represent it would be like the play of 'Hamlet' with 'Hamlet' left out."

The Graphophone.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—A company of western men, with Hamilton S. Wicks, of Kansas City, at their head, has secured a contract with the syndicate controlling the Edison Bell graphophone for all rights within the territory west of the Mississippi and east of the Rocky mountains. Exchanges are to be established and the instruments introduced in the leading cities of that district by the 1st of October.

A Saw Mill Boiler Lets Go.

SHELBY, Mich., Aug. 18.—The boiler of the Frosser saw mill at Bloomington Valley, two miles east of here, blew up Thursday afternoon. Engineer C. S. Dodge was instantly killed, and a mill hand named Roby died soon after. The owner, Dolos Frosser, will probably die. Two others were badly hurt. The mill is a total wreck. A Ramshackle boiler is said to have been the cause of the explosion.
